Planning Groups Protest Office Zone Hearing

By WALT JOHNSON

Representatives of various planning organizations raked the County Planning Commission with protests Tuesday night, balking at participation in a hearing on a county-wide ordinance for administrative and professional office districts.

The ordinance would enable Pacific Intermountain Express Co. to build at Orinda's Pine Grove.

Delegates from the Orinda Association, the Contra Costa County Women's Planning Council and the Emergency Committee for Master Planning argued that they had not received adequate notice of the hearing and had not been provided with copies of the ordinance far enough in advance to prepare themselves.

SPOKESMEN included Mrs. Gladys Schwatka, representing the Orinda Association; Robert Guichard of the Emergency Committee for Master Planning, Mrs. Claire Ward of the Women's Planning Council, and Joe Zablocki.

"Notice of the hearing on the ordinance was inadequate," said Mrs. Schwatka.

She also objected to non-publication of the proposed ordinance until shortly before the time of the hearing.

MATTHEW WALKER, deputy district attorney serving as the commission's legal adviser, replied:

"It is my opinion sufficient notice was given. Also the copies of the ordinance which have been distributed tonight are clearly marked 'rough draft'."

"We propose to develop the ordinance through public hearing," said Thomas Heaton, county planning director.

THE SECOND HEARING was scheduled for 8 p.m. July 26.

Some objectors to the form of Tuesday's hearing claimed that other nearby counties produce a proposed ordinance in rough form for distribution before any notice of a public hearing is given.

The ordinance proposes an administrative district to include medical-dental offices or the offices of a lawyer, engineer or architect, provided there are no retail sales.

OFFICES OF AN administrative, executive, professional, editorial, governmental or similar nature would be allowed provided that no merchandise is handled for sale and that no merchandising services are rendered, except such as are incidental or accessory to the principal use.

Research institutes and laboratories devoted to experimental study such as testing and analyzing would be allowed.

The rough draft of the ordinance also includes:

"LOT AREA:

"Minimum site of five acres. Minimum width of 400 feet. Minimum depth of 400 feet.

"Height:

"Two stories, but not exceeding 35 feet above the highest point of which the building is erected.

"Yards:

"Minimum sideyards of 50 feet. Minimum rear yards of 50 feet. There shall be minimum side and ground elevation on the lot upon rear yards of 100 feet on all external boundaries of this zone that abut on residential and agricultural zones.

"SETBACK:

"Minimum setback of 100 feet.

"No building or buildings shall cover more than 15 per cent of the lot area. . . .

"Special regulations:

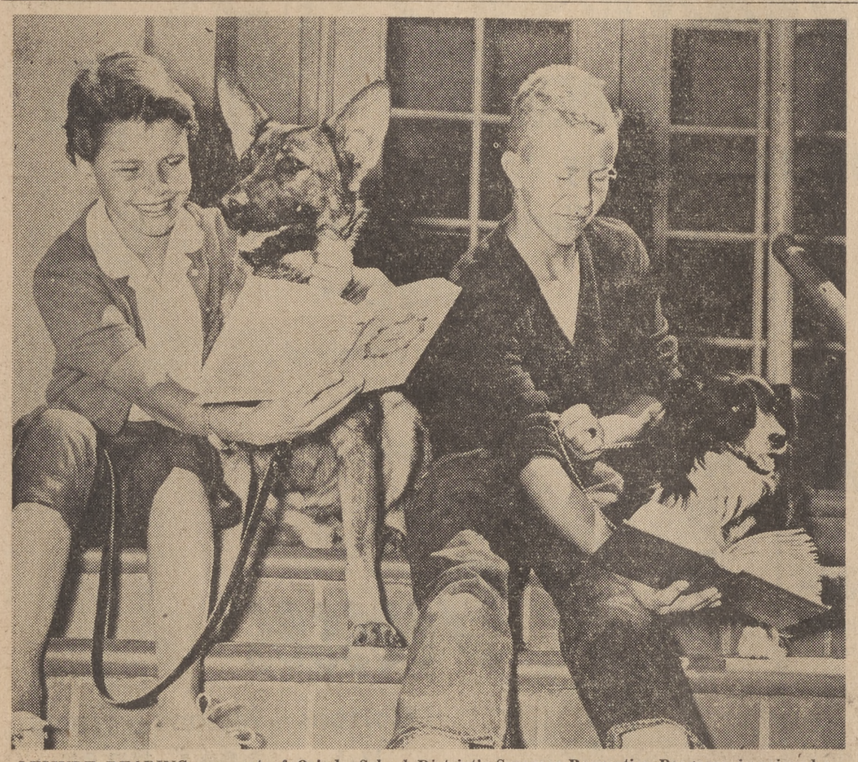

"A. Off-street parking and loading: Adequate off-street parking shall be provided on the premises for all vehicles of persons employed and of visitors and customers. . . .

"B. SIGNS: Signs displayed on the premises of any permitted use shall pertain directly to the operation or service offered by said use. The aggregate area of all such signs shall not exceed one-half square foot for each front foot of lot width. Signs shall be located upon or shall not extend more than three feet beyond any wall or roof of the main building, except that an identification sign, not exceeding 12 square feet in area, may be placed within the set back area.

"C. Site Plan and Landscaping Approval: Prior to the issuance of a building permit for construction of any building or buildings it shall be necessary for the Planning Commission to first approve the site and landscaping plans.

"In approving site and landscaping plans the Planning Commission shall find that they are consistent with the intent of this district; that they are compatible to the nearby uses both within and without the district; that properly designed and located means of ingress and egress are provided and that adequate parking facilities are provided."

PIE, which plans its office building under provisions of the proposed zone, was represented by Harold Wise, Menlo Park planning consultant, and Attorney John Charles Houlihan, a member of the Oakland Planning Commission and the American Society of Planning Officials.

Medical Building Decision August 2

Meadow Pool Land Use Permit OK'd; Hicks to Supervise All Construction

The Board of Supervisors approved a land use permit last Friday for Meadow Pool at Heather Lane and Valley Drive.

Certain stipulations in connection with the approval were issued by the supervisors.

IF HEATHER LANE, now private, is made a public roadway, Meadow Pool, Inc., must improve the road to county standards without destroying private improvements alongside.

In addition, all requirements of flood control must be met by the corporation. The pool must also be closed not later than 10 p.m.

If Heather Lane is not opened to public use, the main access to the pool will be on Valley Drive.

IMMEDIATELY after the granting of the permit, Meadow Pool, Inc., exercised option for the purchase of the site from Fred T. Wood.

Many residents requested membership as soon as the news spread, according to James Thomas-Stahle, membership chairman. He announced that a few memberships were still available.

At a meeting of the board of directors of the corporation Tuesday night, all applications were accepted for membership.

EDWARD HICKS, San Francisco arhcitect living on Valley Drive and a director of the corporation, accepted the post of building committee chairman.

He will supervise and coordinate all off-site and on-site construction work.

It is expected that construction of the pool and facilities will be started as soon as technicalities of title search have been completed by Wood.

Is School Site Missing in Warford Mesa?

The Orinda School District Board of Trustees re-elected its chairman and clerk to serve for another fiscal year at its Monday night Orinda School meeting.

EDGAR B. STEWART will serve another term as chairman, and Mrs. Catherine Schwarck will continue to hold the post of clerk.

Superintendent of Schools Joseph L. Sheaff announced that some 268 homes are anticipated for the proposed Warford Mesa tract, but that to his knowledge no provision has been made for a school site. The topography is poor for such a site.

An average of 1.5 children is expected from each home.

The board has written a letter to Mr. Warford asking him to appear at one of the regular meetings, and another letter to the Board of Supervisors. This is a request to inform the board as to what the sub-divider of the tract had in mind to solve the lack of provision for a school site.

THE SUPERVISORS have also been asked to notify the school board before giving final approval to plans for the tract.

The board authorized Sheaff to contact the Board of Supervisors and ask that as many bonds as possible be sold after the assessed valuation is known in August. They will be used toward purchase of the Inland Valley site, and Sleepy Hollow equipment.

THE BOARD also requested Sheaff to write to Dr. William Odell of the Stanford School Survey Group and ask him to appear before the board on August 1.

The survey group will have to come into both Lafayette and Orinda to perform its survey for the High School District. If that body could cover the elementary districts at the same time, the districts would save on charges. Orinda is most concerned with a transportation survey.

Single Phone Call Costs Pet Shop 80 Bucks

Mrs. Doris Hardt walked to the rear of Orinda Pet Shop, 226 Brookwood Road, last week to answer the phone. It was an $80 phone call.

She told sheriff's deputies that someone "tapped the till' while she was in the rear.

A man about 30 years of age in the store had disappeared when she returned to the front counter.

Robinson Leaves Planning Group

Resignation of Boone Robinson from the Orinda Association's Planning Committee was announced this week by James Hupp, committee chairman.

Hupp said that Robinson had submitted his resignation to him.

The report was verified by Robinson.

Long active in community affairs, Robinson, who lives at 134 Lombardy Lane, was formerly chairman of the association's Planning Committee and president of the Planning League of Contra Costa County.

Fernhoff Blasts PIE Pine Grove Building Plan

The proposed Pacific Intermountain Express building at the Pine Grove is "a beautiful woman without virtue and Orinda residents are in danger of being seduced by her," F. B. Fernhoff of Orinda, former Oakland city attorney, stated this week.

"Rezone Orinda to permit PIE and other industry which would follow, and we will lose the high individual evaluation on our homes, for which we have already paid a premium," he told members of the Home-Owners Committee of the Orinda Association.

Fernhoff, of 3 Orchard Road, is a member of the law firm of Fernhoff and Wolfe in Oakland. He was city attorney for Oakland from 1934 to 1947.

"AS ANYONE who has had experience in municipal work would understand, not only would rezoning with its resulting commerce and low-value homes change Orinda's exclusive suburban character, but it would bring more costs to the tax paying residents," Fernhoff said. He added that wherever communities have grown commercially, costs of fire, police and other administration mushroom, and while home evaluation goes down, administrative costs go up.

"Orinda's costs to care for these people would far outweigh PIE's gross taxes paid, and the most dangerous deception Orindans can believe is that the gross taxes paid by incoming corporations here would go to Orinda. They would not, but would be allocated in the general fund," Fernhoff stated.

"We came out here looking for a residence in an exclusively residential district, and I'm very much concerned regarding my own place," Fernhoff said in joining the Orinda Home-Owners Committee.

FERNHOFF IS a past governor and vice-president of the California State Bar and past president of the Alameda County Bar Association.

Fernhoff cited Piedmont and Beverly Hills as examples of communities which have successfully protected their home values by limiting commerce.

Sleepy Hollow to Break Ground For Play Area

Ground breaking ceremonies for the new Sleepy Hollow Recreational Area in Orinda will be held Sunday at 4:00 p.m. at the site. Donald Doyle, State Assemblyman and Jack Cummings, Chairman of the Contra Costa Board of Supervisors will be present to help dedicate the project. Each will make a short talk.

According to Mr. C. Mason Whitney, landscape architect for the project, 11,000 cubic yards of grading and culverting are providing 1.3 acres of flat area around the proposed pool site, 1½ acres for a parking lot which will accommodate 150 cars, and a .6 acre play field.

'Ridiculous,' Says PIE Reply To Fernhoff

F. B. Fernhoff's statement that Pacific Intermountain Express Company's proposed office building at the Pine Grove is "a beautiful woman without virtue" and that "Orinda residents are in danger of being seduced by her" was termed "ridiculous" by a PIE spokesman yesterday.

"It is apparent that Mr. Fernhoff has changed his colors but not his stripes," the PIE spokesman said. "When last quoted in the press he was a spokesman for a group known as Citizens for Residential Orinda, sponsors of a newspaper ad which accused PIE of 'using top-level Red tactics' and of setting up 'cells' to sow misinformation and confusion.

"Now, as spokesman for a new organization—Orinda Home-Owners Committee—Mr. Fernhoff follows a line that has gone from the near-libelous to the ridiculous.

"IN TRYING to frighten Orinda residents with the line that property values will drop with the development we have announced for the Pine Grove property, Mr. Fernhoff must not have been present last Tuesday night in Martinez when a new zoning district was publicly discussed before the County Planning Commission.

"His statement might have some basis of truth if a glue factory were to be built in Orinda, but PIE has applied for rezoning when this new district is made law, and restrictions required by this new district are specially designed to protect local property owners from just such things as loss of value to their property.

"IT IS SUGGESTED that Mr. Fernhoff visit or contact by phone the developers of Linfield Oaks in Menlo Park and discuss property values. Here he will find $22,000 to $40,000 homes on the other side of a fence from an administrative office building zone. The value of these homes has risen—not dropped—since offices, including Sunset magazine, have been built.

"Contra Costa County's proposed zone is even more tightly controlled by restrictions for neighborhood protection than that of Menlo Park.

"Mr. Fernhoff implies that fire, police and other administrative costs occasioned by PIE's development would be more than the amuont paid in taxes by the company.

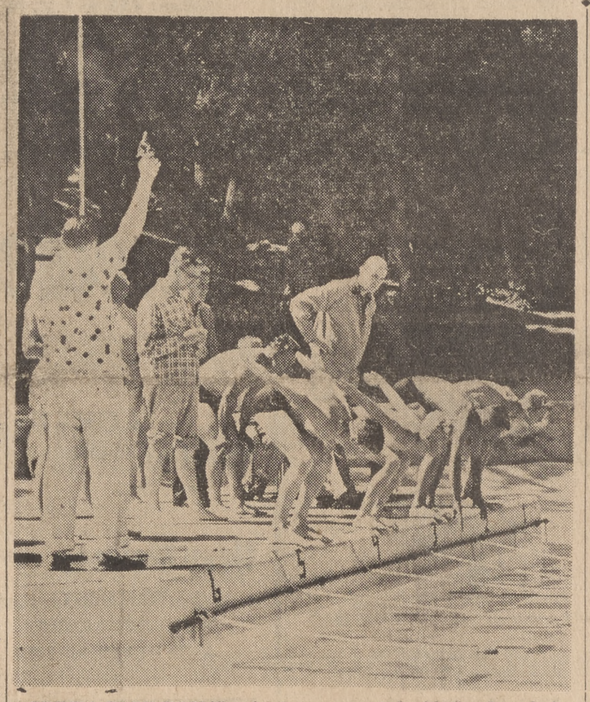

"This is so ridiculous that it is laughable. Mr. Fernhoff is no Sergeant Friday, as he simply doesn't 'get the facts.'

"WHILE ON THE subject of taxes Mr. Fernhoff pauses to say that PIE's taxes would not benefit Orinda directly but would go into the county general fund.

"The Orinda Association is a member of the Contra Costa County Taxpayers Association, and as such is eligible to consult with that group on tax matters.

"Mr. James Hupp, chairman of the Orinda Association's Planning Committee, made an inquiry on the very subject of which Mr. Fernhoff speaks and received a letter in reply dated April 8, 1955. To quote from the letter: 'Actually, therefore, the Orinda homeowners' (tax) reduction would be about $2 (annually), and the other half of the ($4) reduction would be spread over the entire county in much smaller amounts.'

"There is other information regarding taxes which would be interesting to Mr. Fernhoff if he were to borrow the letter from Mr. Hupp's files and read it."

Sheriff Rushes Victim to Hospital Due to Lack of Ambulance Service

A bady bleeding woman, victim of an auto accident, was sped to the hospital Tuesday by a deputy sheriff in his patrol car due to the lack of nearby emergency ambulance service.

Residents of Walnut Creek, Orinda and Danville are in their second week with virtually no ambulance service readily available for highway emergencies.

TUESDAY'S VICTIM was Mrs. Mary Hanley, 53, of 2359 Crescent Drive, Concord. She suffered severe knee injuries in a two-car crash on Mount Diablo Boulevard at Stuart Street.

Deputy Sheriff John Snyder, en route to another detail, stopped to radio for an ambulance before state patrolmen had arrived.

Emergency ambulance service was halted July 1 by the Walnut Creek Ambulance Service, a private concern, when the county refused to consider a monthly subsidy of $450, which William B. Pomeroy, the owner, felt necessary to keep him operating. He had been losing money for several months, he said.

POMEROY CONTINUES to offer private ambulance calls.

Snyder, rather than wait for an ambulance to be dispatched from Martinez of Pittsburg, teamed up with David W. Kurrels, operator of the Mount Diablo Patrol Service who also happened by, and they applied a tourniquet to Mrs. Hanley's knee using Kurrels' trouser belt.

The injured woman was then rushed to Kaiser Foundation Hospital in Walnut Creek for emergency treatment. Later she was transferred to Concord Hospital.

MRS. HANLEY was riding in a car driven by her husband, also 53, when they collided with another vehicle driven by Mrs. Lydia L. Remond, 26, of 681 Jennie Court, Lafayette which was making a left turn off the main highway.

Because they must desert their home areas for long periods, ambulance firms in Martinez, Concord and Berkeley are reluctant to respond to calls in this area. Berkeley police are prohibited from sending their ambulance crews outside of the city, Lt. R. T. Sherry, chief of the special service division, said.

Fred Strain, owner of the Bay Cities Ambulance Co. of Berkeley said, "We don't encourage such calls (in the south-central Contra Costa area) because we know proper service can only be provided by an ambulance nearer the scene."

JACK CONNOLLY JR., of the Brunscher and Connolly Funeral Home, operating one ambulance in Martinez, made a similar comment.

Richard McFarlane of the McFarlane-Bryant Funeral Chapel in Concord, declared he was neither "encouraging nor refusing" highway emergency calls in the area formerly served by the Walnut Creek firm.

He pointed out that he could not endanger the Concord Community Hospital district, to which he is contracted.

Pomeroy solicited subsidy from the Central, Danville Orinda and Lafayette Fire Districts, but was rejected.

HE THEN REQUESTED a $450 monthly subsistance from the County Board of Supervisors which was also rejected.

County Administrator D. M. Teeters, acknowledged the county's responsibility to "protect and transport the sick," but he declared that the county was prohibited from entering "into the ambulance business."

County Planners Will Investigate Dr. Thomas' Application Further

By WALT JOHNSON

The County Planning Commission Tuesday night promised a decision August 2 on the application of Dr. W. F. Thomas to build a professional building fronting on the southeast side of Southwood Drive and Moraga Highway.

Carlisle Nielsen, Dr. Thomas' attorney, and Paul Vashell, 4 Vashell Way, debated the issue before the commission.

Also speaking briefly in opposition to Dr. Thomas was John J. Blaney, 7 Overhill Road.

THE OPPOSITION is appealing the land use permit because they feel it would break deed restrictions, set the precedent of breaking restrictions and lower property values in the neighborhood.

They also cite an intensified parking problem following completion of Lucky Market across the street, and believe increased traffic would create hazards on Northwood Drive.

Vashell maintained: "Dr. Thomas knew it was a residential lot when he bought it. Now he wants to break restrictions."

NIELSEN CLAIMED the original deed was changed without Dr. Thomas' knowledge. "A man doesn't keep looking up his deed when he owns property over a period of years," Nielsen explained.

He added: "A man cannot be denied the use of his property; this property is unfit for residential use."

Vashell retorted: "If he wants to sell it, I'll build a home there."

The two men presented contrary claims as to the views of adjacent property owners on the matter, with Vashell claiming general disapproval of the professional building and Nielsen, general approval.

AT ONE POINT, their debate touched off an exchange between Planning Commissioner George Honegger and Thomas Heaton, county planning director.

Honegger maintained the number of parking places (present plans call for 18) should determine the number of doctors in the building. Heaton adopted an opposite reasoning on that matter — that the number of doctors should determine the number of parking places.

The commission planning staff will conduct further study before the issue comes up again August 2.

Essay Contest Ends in Tie

This year's Orinda Lions Club essay contest for eighth graders of the Orinda Union School Disrtict ended in a first place deadlock betwen two Orinda School pupils, Tamara Hartanov and Bill Cline.

Chairman of the speakers contest and essay committee was Kenneth Courtright.

HIS GROUP had to choose from among 20 essays on "Safety Through Sane Living," selected by eighth grade teachers. The yearly subject coincides with that of the high school Student Speakers Contest.

Tamara's teacher was Marvin Tripp, and Bill's was James Comer. Both winners received personal gifts, embossed photograph albums and certificates.

In addition ,their names were engraved on the Lions Club perpetual scholastic award plaque on display in the Orinda School office.

THERE WERE other papers which the committee felt deserved special recognition, and these were given honorable mention awards, accompanied by a certificate and personal gift.

Among past winners of the contest, which began in 1946, were Ann Badgley, Richard Breuner, James Hall, Janet Chantler and William Rupley.

Hearing Will Be Held Tuesday On Fire Zone 1

By JULIUS ROSENTHAL

Public hearing on the proposal for a Fire Zone 1 classification for the mercantile area of Orinda will be held by the County Board of Supervisors at 10 a.m. Tuesday.

The hearing date was scheduled by the supervisors last week, after Clarence E. Betz, Orinda Fire Board secretary, had reported that the proposal had been tentatively approved by the Orinda Association.

If established, the Fire Zone 1 in Orinda would be the first such classification in the unincorporated area of Contra Costa County.

BASIC DIFFERENCE between Fire Zone 1 and Fire Zone 2, now in effect for mercantile establishments in Orinda, is that no new frame-type buildings would be allowed under Zone 1.

In a letter to the supervisors, Betz reiterated the Orinda Fire Board's desire for an ordinance which would establish a Fire Zone 1.

BOTH IN HIS letter and in his personal appearance before the Board of Supervisors July 5, Betz told of the series of meetings by the fire commissioners, Orinda Association representatives and property owners, at which tentative agreement had been reached.

Betz pointed out that a Fire Zone 1 would affect new business construction, or repairs of a sizable extent, in the Crossroads and Village areas and the new Planned Neighborhood Business District.

Weather Bird's Wings Scorched

"Hot, hotter, hottest," the Orinda Weather Bird grumbled, as fluently as any well-trained parakeet.

There was good reason for his climactic — and climatic — superlative, because on Wednesday the mercury had climbed to 97 degrees, the hottest temperature here this year (up to yesterday morning).

What's more, the Weather Bird was thirsty. There wasn't a drop of rain all week.

High and low temperatures were:

July 9	75	51
July 10	78	50

Industry Didn't Help Menlo Park, Says Committee

"Menlo Park has changed from a quiet residential community to a city bustling with mercantile activity," Women's Planning Council members were told Wednesday.

A preliminary report on research being done by a special committee which is studying the impact of industrial offices and controlled manufacturing plants on rural residential areas pointed to the fact that Menlo's population has nearly doubled in the past five years.

MORE THAN a thousand office workers now converge on the once country-style suburb, said Mrs. Claire Ward, committee chairman.

Apartments, fourplexes and duplexes are being built in increasing numbers to accommdate the new commercial office workers, the committee reported. New demands for multiple dwellings show preference for lower rentals according to John Johnson, planning secretary, who was interviewed by council members during a field trip to the peninsula city.

EXPECTING sizable tax cuts for the residents of Menlo due to the increased commercialization, council members were suprprised to discover that the new office valuations have been balanced out by increased costs due to need for services to accommodate the expanding population.

Mrs. H. L. Schary reported on the proposed Antioch swale aquatic park. The council has gone on record favoring the extension of recreation facilities in high density population areas adjacent to industrial developments.

According to Mrs. Schary, chairman of a special council committee appointed to study the swale area, approximately 150 acres are included in the proposed lake and park site.

Mott Heads Drive Directed Against Outside Business

Organization of the newly-formed Orinda Home-Owners Committee, official body of the Orinda Association to spearhead the association board's fight against establishment of businesses here which do not serve local needs, is proceeding at "a furious pace," according to an announcement from the committee headquarters, at 6 Vashell Way, Orinda.

Mott expressed gratitude to the volunteers who have offered to help, financially and otherwise.

PLANS ARE NOW under way to create, produce and distribute printed information "to tell the homeowner's story," he said. An appeal for funds to pay for the cost of this program will be made in the immediate future, he added.

Checks may be made out to William Penn Mott Jr. and mailed to the Home-Owners Sommittee, Box 97, Orinda.

No Raise for Collins, but Hot Words

District Attorney Francis Collins handed a check for $5000 to the Board of Supervisors Tuesday saying: "I don't like to take the responsibility of keeping you folks and the auditor from getting raises."

The move was a result of Governor Knight's pocket veto of a bill which would have raised the district attorney's salary $1500 per year.

Also included in the bill were a $2100 raise for the auditor and $1200 for each supervisor.

KNIGHT, IN refusing to sign the bill, charged that Collins is "a glaring example" of a public official who devotes too much time to outside interest.

Collins immediately replied that Knight's statement "illustrates to me the most glaring example of a misinformed governor."

The $5000 check, Collins said, would cover any increase in salary he would receive during the remainder of his term if the governor should sign the legislation.

"I MADE AT NO time a request for pay increase . . . to any one," said Collins. "I still have a good law business — but you can check the courts to see if I have spent one full day in court (on private matters).

He said the county is of primary interest to him and that he had "never worked less than 50 hours a week for the county."

In handing over the check Collins said "To me a person who's governor always had to be a man who's big in stature . . . Well — I don't think — no, I'd better not say it.

The supervisors commented that there have been many other cases of county officials who operate private business and, according to Supervisor Ivan Goyak," it is a way of government for which the people of California have voted. The people have accepted it."

Enrolled at Davis

Gail Champion, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip S. Champion, 134 Canon Drive, has been admitted to the University of California at Davis for the fall semester. She will undertake a two-year program in the College of Agriculture.

THE CHECK WAS given to Clerk Mary Smith to hold for safekeeping. Collins explained that if the bill were signed the check could be accepted by the board as an outright "gift."

No particular opposition to the pay raise bill has been voiced by any group and considerable speculation as to why Collins was singled out has been voiced.

Supervisors Meet With Contractors

Members of the Board of Supervisors joined recently with the members of the General Contractors Association of Contra Costa County and their wives to hear Edward W. Ford, registrar, State Contractors License Board, Sacramento, speak.

Garry Grover, Lafayette, president of the association announced that the association was to construct its own "home" in Lafayette, completed, if possible, by National Home Week, September 10-18, 18, 1955.

Many offers of supplies, materials and labor were made at the meeting. "The successful erection of the association building is assured by the generosity of the suppliers and contractors," Grover stated.

Over 120 members and their wives enjoyed dancing at the close of Ford's remarks. Participating in the meeting were Supervisor and Mrs. Ivan Goyak, Supervisor and Mrs. J. Frederickson, Supervisor Ray Taylor and Supervisor Bud Buchanan.

New members accepted by the board of directors were Aiman Building Specialties, Walnut Creek; Lewis Dannels, Lafayette; East Bay Municipal Utilities District, Oakland; Thompson & Holmes, Ltd., San Francisco, and H. W. Gentry Building Materials Co., Walnut Creek.

CLOSE TO DANGER

When you're driving close to home, you're still close to danger, warns the National Automobile Club. Before turning into that driveway, take a good look about you and make the proper arm signals in a clear and unmistakable way.

New Planning Group to Meet At Acalanes

A meeting of the recently incorporated Association for the Progress and Improvement of Contra Costa County will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday at Acalanes High School, Lafayette, it is announced by George Weise, Martinez, temporary chairman of the group.

According to Weise the association is to be composed of all segments of Contra Costa County who are interested in the sound development and planning in the county.

"The interest expressed in our group to date has led us to the conclusion that there is a definite need for the services we intend to perform and deep affection for Contra Costa County by the residents," Weise said.

At the meeting, which will be open to the public, the aims and purposes of the association will be reviewed and a discussion of the methods of accomplishing these aims will be held, he said.

'Gigi' Will Be Given Tonight By Dramateurs

"Gigi" will open the Dramateurs summer series tonight. It will play tonight and tomorrow nights at Lafayette Town Hall. Curtain time is 8:30.

The story takes place in France in 1900 and is about a young French girl, Gigi, who is brought up by her mother, grandmother, and aunt to be a stylish coquette. Their arrangements for her life do not appeal to Gigi, so she makes her own plans.

Francis Shurtliff of Walnut Creek will play the part of Andree.

MRS. SHURTLIFF was a speech major at the University of Utah, studied music in San Francisco when she came here and was in the Opera Chorus.

With the Intimate Theater and Lafayette Playshop she has played such parts as Honey Chile in "Lo and Behold," Jeannie in 'Stephen Foster," Birdie in 'The Little Foxes," Aunt Lavinia in 'The Heiress" and Ann in 'Guest in the House."

OTHERS IN THE cast are Wirtabel Harris as Madam Alvarez, Charles Gibbs as Victor, Alice Swenning as Gigi, Peg Stanislawsky as Alicia, Charles Scott as Gaston, Norma Walkley as Sidonie.

Hostess Connie Stearn will announce the play and introduce the cast. Norma Betz is assistana director as well as costume chairman.

Tickets — at $1 per single performance, or $2.50 for the series — can be obtained at the box office the night of the performance, or from any member of the Dramateurs.

Christian Science

That God's man is endowed with unquenchable strength and power will be emphasized at services Sunday in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Life" at Churches of Christ, Scientist, 1347 Locust Street, Walnut Creek, and 42 Orinda Highway, Orinda.

Selections to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy include the following (215:12): "Whatever is governed by God, is never for an instant deprived of the light and might of intelligence and Life."

Also cited are passages from the Bible, including the following (Psalms 27:1,4):

"The Lord is my light and my salvation; whom shall I fear? the Lord is the strength of my life; of whom shall I be afraid? . . . One thing have I desired of the Lord, that will I seek after; that I may dwell in the house of the Lord all th days of my life, to behold the beauty of the Lord, and to enquire in his temple."

AMONG THOSE who will demonstrate painting are: Mary Rasmussen, Roselyn DeGall, Katie Madsen, Constance Helm, Ilo Jean Brown, Betty Stier and Mrs. Lloyd Gunn, Danville; Jerry Winker, Alamo; Mary Lee Parker, Walnut Creek, and Elsie Albright, Lafayette.

Paintings in every medium will be accepted to compete for a popular prize of $25. Six additional awards will be made in each medium.

William Penn Mott Pledges 'Militant Battle to Keep Orinda Residential'

William Penn Mott Jr. ,chairman of the Home-Owners Committee of the Orinda Association promises "a miltant battle to keep Orinda residential."

"Orinda has historically developed into a residential community. To change that pattern is poor planning and can in the long run result in the depreciation of present residential values," Mott said yesterday.

"MY FEELING is that when you put into a community a development foreign to its needs—such as the proposed Intermountain Express administrative plant—you are diluting residential values," he continued.

In public life Mott is superintendent of Oakland city parks. He has been distinguished in community planning work since 1933, following his obtaining his master's degree in landscaped architecture at the University of California.

"FROM A PLANNING standpoint, spot-zoning to set aside 10 acres in a residential area for a use foreign to the residents of that area is unrelated and unnecessary," Mott dclared.

"Also, once the precedent is set, like follows like.

"Not to mention the fact that the office workers such as would be employed in the PIE building like to live in garden apartments close to their work—which would mean multiple dwellings."

THE COMMITTEE chairman stated that since community planning is a relatively new and inexact science, there are planners who believe in integrating commercial activity into residential areas.

However, the one proven situation is that residential communities which are protected by zoning have maintained their property values for 50 years or more, he said.

The basic issue to be decided now, Mott emphasized, is whether or not Orinda should be kept residential. Residential population estimates point to 20,000 people for Orinda in the next few years, he added.

"I am for keeping Orinda strictly residential — with enough services for local needs," Mott summarized.

Certain Sewer District Jobs Require Exams

The board of directors of the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District at its June 30 meeting voted to require Civil Service examinations for certain job classifications authorized in the 1955-56 budget.

Those classifications affected include sewer inspector, pump station operator, utility man, office engineer and maintenance man.

Authority to give the exams was requested by Gerry Horstkotte, district engineer-manager.

He also brought to the attention of the board the occasional requests from sewer contractors for inspectors to work overtime, and recommended a $5 per hour charge in addition to regular inspection fees when overtime is required and authorized.

The board passed this recommendation, setting a minimum of one hour overtime.

Sewer District Buys 9 Trucks

The Central Contra Costa Sanitary District approved the purchase of nine new trucks, June 23. A net bid of $10,615.20, with turn in of five used vehicles, won the contract for Parker-Robb Chevrolet.

A contract for relocation of sewers in the path of the Walnut Creek-Monument State Freeway route was awarded to A.J. Peters and Son of San Jose for $95,507.43, a bid that was 12 per cent low.

The directors authorized installation of radio equipment in seven vehicles and a master control panel in the office, with Link Radio drawing the contract for $4,812.

Area Council of Churches Will Lay Plans Monday

The Council of Churches of Central Contra Costa County will meet at 8 p..m in the Trinity Baptist Church, 3525 Chestnut Avenue, Concord. All churches in this area are asked to send representatives of their governing body, women's and men's groups, youth group and their pastor.

Summer Scribblings

By MARIE MONAHAN

CONGRESSMAN AND MRS. John F. Baldwin recently visited Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, United States Representative to the United Nations, who escorted them through the UN building in New York. Left to right are Mrs. Baldwin, Baldwin and Ambassador Lodge.

SUMMER SCRIBLINGS,—STDG—

PARDON OUR PROTOCOL . . . but in between the flags and fezes and "visiting firemen" at the United Nations Sessions, we saw Barbara Reid, President of the Orinda Women Democrats Club, applauding John Foster Dulles . . . SF was teeming with excitement and the red carpet was out all over town!

Among the fortunate Orindans in the UN audience—Grace Hanks, Sally Booth, Marion Devin, and Dorothy Spott . . . We marveled at the magic of the headphone, a tricky IBM gadget, which translates, by simple dialing, the UN speeches into a variety of languages . . . Our French came in for a "brush-up" and we were most impressed with crisp, clear tones of the interpreters . . .

For some two hours, we did a "Mrs. Mitty" and were Pretenders to the Press, like Inez Robb, Dorothy Roe, etc. but back home to reality we returned, thrilled, tired, and fell asleep counting diplomats instead of sheep.

FOURTH OF JULY festivities . . . A "Bang-Up" Party, potluck-style, at the Richard Janssens on Park Lane, by the Dramateurs, which served as a "good excuse" for many things—a Housewarming for Dick and Janice, a B'day celebration for Bruce Winkworth, and a "listening-to" of the Dramateurs recently-Recorded "Boy With A Cart" . . .

Sparking the evening with topical conversations were the Arnold Schrallas, Karl Sternes, Eugene Connallys, Henry Harrises, Charles Gibbs, Jim Chappels, and a good many more. This weekend, the talented members of the above crew launch their first summer theater venture in unique style at the Lafayette Town Hall when a delectable favorite—"GIGI"—will be done "In The Round" fashion. Curtain time is 8:30 so Hurry, Scurry, if you'd like to see it tonight or tomorrow night.

You've still time for the new package-deal on memberships, which includes tickets for spring and fall shows, plus a rake-off on the summer-series, which are a trio of topnotch plays. Tickets are selling like hotcakes and Wirtabel Harris will take reservations at CL 4-2460.

GETTING AWAY from it all . . . To Clear Lake for fireworks and fishing for the Gordon Ainsworth Family . . . Jim and Lois Denning and sons stopped at Clear Lake too, and then traversed the country roads to picturesque and historic Grass Valley town and Downieville . . . The Leonard Boths returned from a week of "rustication" at Van Damme State Park on the upper Calif. coastline and report that son Mark was initiated into the rudiments of camping and came through with flying colors . . .

Marge and Dick Jeppson spent last weekend at Zephyr Cove, Tahoe, and Dorothy Grassi basked in the Tahoe Valley sunshine . . . The Sig Groennings of Via Hermosa motored to Sierra Lodge where Sig and son Arne took off on a "Sierra Hi" trip.

The Robert Milligans had a family reunion over the Fourth at the Berkeley Tuolumne Camp. Here from Houston, Texas, with her husband Paul and four children, was Jeanne Milligan's sister, Sally Komstan.

The Milligans, who have three sons, are readying to transfer their lares and penates down El Toyonal, across the Dam Road, and up to their newly-built home on Camino Don Miguel . . .

Another reunion in the Courtright Clan when Betty Keogh, of Nevada, and sister of the Courtrights, houseguested here with the Weido Lanciones.

POOLSIDE NOTES, Orinda Park . . . Last Sunday's Relays miked by President Ray Grassi and aided and abetted by the Pool Board members and a throng of spectators, witnessed some expert swimming . . . The V.U. Ramsings cruised in to finish first in the husband and wife race with Sylvia Ramsing in a fast and seemingly-effortless fashion also finishing ahead in the Women's Relay . . . Twin Hauer stroked the length of the pool with nary a break for breath and emerged smiling with no signs of the anticipated apoplexial state . . . while George Hauer and son took home half a watermelon as award for father and son relay and the other half-watermelon went home with Peggy Kirby san son Tom, who copped first in the Mother and Son and/or Daughter swimming race.

Most fun for the kids was diving and hunting for the pennies, nickels, and dimes! Frances Newman's snapshot-entry made front-page, Leisure section of the Chronicle as a winner in the current Photography Contest the pix was "clicked" by Fran in Austria on the Newman's recent trip abroad . . .

Kathy Grah, aged 8, of the Rudy Grahs of Sleepy Hollow, had her artwork published and won a prize for her piggy bank with her entry to an SF paper's Jr. Art Contest . . . If the nurse with the infectious smile in Dr. Smith's office looks familiar, it's Adrienne Decker, long time Orindian, who has cheered many a cherub and child with her warming ways and laugh.

Tamara Hartanov Tells Story of Safety From Days of Primitive Man to Today

Here are some highlights from the essay by Tamara Hartanov, whi tied for first place with Bill Cline in the recent essay contest for the Orinda School graduating class, conducted by the Orinda Lions Club.

The contest subject was "Safety Through Sane Living." Here are some excerpts from Tamara's essay:

"ALL THROUGH the ages, man has struggled for safety.

"Primitive man lived in caves or in tree tops to be safe from wild beasts and savage primitive tribesmen. He had to be constantly on the alert to protect himself and his family from ever-lurking dangers.

"Those who survived learned to protect themselves by pulling up the ladder of vines or by rolling a rock before the mouth of the cave.

"GRADUALLY, man invented various weapons and tools, and made discoveries which brought greater comfort and safety. As civilization developed, more and more hazards were overcome. Better homes were constructed. Bridges and roads were built which could be traveled with less fear of accident. Larger and safer ships sailed the seas. The number of dangerous animals grew smaller.

"Yet, as many of the natural dangers faced by men of earlier ages gradually disappeared, they were replaced by others which often proved to be even more dangerous. Machines created by man to serve man all too frequently became his destroyer. Man's ability to invent and construct machines has developed faster than his ability to use them safely.

"IT IS IMPOSSIBLE to describe all the hazards of the modern home. Each year new appliances are invented for use in the home and many of these require special precautions if they are to be used safely.

"Some good rules to follow are:

"Never use any equipment carelessly ;always keep the safeguards in place on dangerous parts; never oil machines while the motor is running, and carefully follow directions for use and upkeep.

"Thoughtlessly getting too close to exposed moving parts, such as the wringer of the washing machine, the blades of an electric beater, or a fan, is the cause of many serious accidents . . .

"MANY PERSONS killed or injured in traffic are pedestrians, and frequently the pedestrian is to blame. Many such accidents could be avoided if persons followed certain common-sense precautions in walking.

"One should always cross streets at intersections or at designated crosswalks in other parts of the street, and one should look left and right before starting to cross the street . . .

"One of the most inspiring gains in the whole safety movement has ben the reduction in occupational accidents. There are many reasons for this improvement. Chief among them has been the installation of guards on machines. In most factories saws, gears, belts and emery wheels are all equipped with safety devices . . .

"Yet in spite of the precautions that industry has taken to safeguard our safety in the appliances and machines used in our daily lives and the various campaigns conducted in the interest of safety, there are too many accidents — in the home — on the street — and in the factory.

"The real solution to this problem resides with each one of us — through careful, sane living in everything we do . . ."

Slow Poke in Left Lane Can Be Cited

The slow poke driver who fails to keep right is a traffic law violator says the California Highway Patrol. This statement is based on Section 525.1 of the California Vehicle Code requiring a driver who is driving slower than the normal speed of traffic to keep to the right hand lane or as near the right edge or curb as is practical.

"Most of these violations occur on multi-lane highways," Patrol Commissioner B. R. Caldwell declared. "Frequently cars pile up behind the driver who pokes along in the left lane forcing other drivers to weave in and out of traffic to maintain normal speed.

"LANE SWITCHING is dangerous and leads to many mishaps," Caldwell continued. "And, too many times, the slow poke who set up the hazardous situtaion is not involved in the accident.

"The best advice we can give motorists is to stay in the right hand lane except when about to turn left or when overtaking and passing another vehicle," the Commissioner concluded. "Remember, the slow poke who insists in driving in the left lane is subject to a traffic citation."

Hopping, Crawling Life Is Typical of Junior Museum

By BETTY CAMERON

While the summer hush has spread calm over most school buildings, the old kindergarten of the Walnut Creek School, at Main Street and Botelho Drive is seething with activity.

Also hopping, crawling, climbing, slithering and bubbling to account for the activities of the various specimens of animal life in residence there and the enthusiasm of numerous boys and girls who have begun to discover the delights of the Diablo Junior Museum.

Launched through the efforts of a group of interested citizens and still only a few weeks old, the museum promises to be a huge success. At present writing, the class registration quota of 200 lacks only six names for completion.

A board of trustees was organized, headed by Alex Lindsay, already known as a member of the Walnut Creek School Board. Mrs. Owen L. Williams is vice-president, Mrs. Frank Young is secretary and Mr. Young is serving as treasurer. Other trustees are Messrs. Sheldon Rankin, Floyd Buchanan, Ferd Ruth, Philip Bancroft, Jr. and John Nejedly, Mesdames Matt Connelly and Harmon Howard and our own Mayor Ted Counter.

Inspired by discussions among members of the Museum trustees, authorities of Contra Costa Junior College decided to offer a natural history summer course for the 9 to 14 age group.

Response was so overwhelming that the board felt encouraged to proceed with plans to set up the Junior Museum and decided to extend the class age limit to include six-year-olds.

SEVENTEEN classes will be held for children in three age groups, with one hour sessions for the youngest, an hour and a half for the middle group and two hours for the oldest students.

John Bruce, biology teacher at San Ramon Junior High School, whose enthusiasm and patience seem boundless, will instruct all classes in addition to serving as Director of the Museum. While formal class sessions will be held only once a week, the Museum and its facilities will be open Monday through Friday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

"We're also hoping to provide tables outdoors for the children to use for working on their projects," said Mr. Bruce.

The Museum boasts a library, presided over by young volunteer Linda Fuller. A member of next year's freshman class at Las Lomas, Linda is making the library her summer project and has already done a capable job of cataloguing the books on hand.

Mrs. Allan Fuller, Linda's mother, has given generously of her time to serve as Registrar.

The classroom houses most of the animal life, including snakes (the rattler in a locked cage), turtles, lizards, rats, gophers and spiders. Handsome mounted exhibits of butterflies and insects may be seen around the walls, and aquaria are in the process of assembly.

Larger animals have cages on a small porch adjoining the classroom. Outstanding in the family of rabbits, moles and guinea pigs is the iguana lizard, which was putting on a fine display of temperament by refusing an amazing variety of foods offered it.

While the school must be a temporary home for the Museum, this is no summer time filler. Plans for the future include sale of memberships to the general public to raise $10,000 toward establishment of a permanent museum with its own building.

WHEN THIS goal is reached, the National Foundation of Junior Museums, headquartered in San Francisco, will contribute $1,000 in cash and $2,000 in exhibits.

Like any new institution of this type, the Museum still has many unfilled needs. Numerous individuals and business establishments have already contributed generously with loans or gifts of exhibits, books and various materials.

Mr. William Wignall, who recently moved into the Orinda area will also give a short introductory talk, a procedure followed to enable fellow members to more readily become acquainted with newcomers. Julie Hartzell of the Junior Sunday School, will give the Sacrament gem.

"The Ideal of Temperance in Christ's Life" taken from the textbook "Christ's Ideals for Living" will be the lesson topic for the adult class under the able direction of Mr. Grant Powell, adult teacher.

The Sunday evening adult Fireside Group will meet at 7:30 at the home of President and Mrs. Thomas Stuart Ferguson, 1 Irving Lane, under the leadership of Mr. Stanton Benson, who will continue his discussion from the "Doctrine and Covenants" — one of the standard works of the Mormon Church.

Community

Guest minister for the second consecutive Sunday is Dr. Lovell Weiss, who will address the 10:30 service on "The Dream of Fair Play," a sermon based on the text, Matthew 7:1-5, 12.

Dr. Weiss, who is director of the Idaho Institute of Christian Education in Moscow, Idaho, is completing work at the Pacific School of Religion in Berkleey before going to Chicago for a conference on student religious work.

Music for the morning service includes a cello solo by Laura Hudd, "Serenade" by Titl, a duet by Ed Richards, tenor, and Jim Hupp, baritone "Verily, thou shalt be in Paradise with me" from Dubois' "Seven Last Words of Christ," and organ selections, "Kol Niedrei" by Bruch and a Bach Fugue to be played by Daniel Popovich, organist and director of Music.

Instead of a Sunday afternoon meeting, the Junior Pilgrim Fellowship will be entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown with a swim and barbecue party at their home, 8 Orchard Court.

Democrats Head For Tilden Park

The Democratic Women of Orinda will join forces Sunday with the Orinda Democratic Club for an all-day family picnic in Tilden Park. The Indian Camp picnic grounds have been reserved from 9 a.m. on.

Families are asked to bring their own lunches, but there will be watermelon provided, as well as prizes for the children's games, according to Mrs. Ralph Reid, president of the women's group.

So that there will be plenty of watermelons as well as prizes, the committee requests that reservations be made with either of the co-chairmen, Mrs. Dorothy Barden (CL 4-5031) or Mrs. Sid Kroff (CL 4-3332).

A Fourth of July theme was used. Flags and red, white and blue decorated the hall. Clever programs made in the shape of large firecrackers enclosed a fine selection of folk and square dances.

DINING TABLES were laid with more of the patriotic colors. An abundance of giant firecrackers were used as centerpieces. They were so well made by the committee in charge they looked like the real thing.

Softball Tournament Winding Up

Title Will Be Decided in Final Tomorrow Night

Tonight finds a pair of games on tap in the Walnut Creek Softball Invitational Tournament at Walnut Creek Municipal Park.

Play has been going on all week long and tonight's participants depend on who were the winners earlier in the week.

The opener is at 7:30 with the nightcap coming at 9:15.

TOMORROW NIGHT the finals take place, with a consolation game getting under way at 7:30 and the championship tilt starting at 9:15.

The winning club and the runner-up will receive trophies, as will the winner of the consolation bracket.

A fourth trophy goes to the tournament's top hitter.

NEXT WEEK the teams swing back into action in local league play and exhibition games as per regular schedule.

Next Monday night it's State Farm versus Larry's Flying A.

On Tuesday it's Kings in an exhibition.

On Wednesday Larry's Flying A shows with a practice title while the girls take over on Thursday.

The week's play will wind up next Friday night when Kings and State Farm meet up in league play.

Frank's Liquors, State Farm Win Tourney Openers

The Walnut Creek Softball Invitational Tournament involving 12 clubs was off with a bang Monday night when a good crowd enjoyed a pair of opening night games under a balmy sky.

The games, played at the Walnut Creek Municipal Park, found Frank's Liquors of Pittsburg edging Middleton-Marchi of Martinez in a close 5-4 contest, and State Farm trouncing Travis Air Base 8-0.

Frank's Liquors was out in front, by a narrow 8-7 margin.

MIDDLETON AND Marchi scored a lone run in the first inning, and Frank's tied it up with a run of their own in the bottom of the initial frame.

Frank's added another run in the second to go out in front 2-1, with the Martinez nine coming back to tie it up 2-2 in the third.

In the fourth each schored once, and while neither could cros home plate in the fifth, Middleton-Marchi scored another run in the sixth, to go out in front 4-3.

IN THE SEVENTH Middleton-Marchi failed to score, and it was the old ball game when Tom DiMercurio and Frank Cota scored for the Pittsburg club in the bottom of the seventh. to wrap up the win, 5-4.

Leading off, Cota singled and went to second and third on wild pitches by Sal Mecurio hurling for Martinez, and came home when the catcher overthrew third on an attempted pick-off.

DiMercuri drew a base on balls was bunted to second and scored the winning run when Sam Anello singled.

Sal Mercurio threw for Middleton-Marchi until the seventh, when he was relieved by Red Edison. Frank Cota went the route for the Pittsburg club, with Art Brown catching. The receiver for the Martinez nine was Nino Billeci.

IN THE NIGHTCAP the Travis Air Base nine had their troubles when they tied into State Farm, who waxed them 8-0.

The Travis club appeared to have ability but no desire as they were shut out with a no-hitter by Tom Joy, who hurled a beautiful ball game while walking one and whiffing 13.

First Baseman Bob Besse had a pair of doubles and a single to make it 3-4, leading the stickers.

The State Farm club racked the opposition for 12 hits in notching the one-sided win.

Jim Robinson was the losing pitcher.

Football Fever in July -- 49er Rookies To Play Fort Ord Sunday at St. Mary's

By ERWIN MATTSON

THE FOOTBALL FEVER is beginning to hit as several thousand grid fans are expected to trek out Moraga Way to St. Mary's College Sunday.

The 49er rookies have been working out all week and go into action against Fort Ord, which features a strong club spearheaded by Paul Larson of California fame, who figures to do the quarterbacking for the visitors.

The game is an exhibition tilt which will provide the 49ers' new coach, "Red" Strader, an opportunity to see the rookies in action prior to a squad cut which will pare a large percentage of the present candidates from the roster.

It's a no-admission-price contest, and first come, first served, as far as seating accommodations are concerned.

Incidentally, all workouts are open to the public and are held twice a day, starting at 9:30 for the morning session and winding up with an afternoon practice beginning at 3:30.

RECENTLY I wrote quite extensively on the need for a recreation district for Lafayette, with a full-time paid director, and I have had several replies.

One question that seems to be foremost is, "won't the Lafayette Community Center fill the need?"

In answer to that, let me state that I feel that the Lafayette Community Center is a wonderufl project and that unliimted credit should be given those who have devoted hours of time, as well as money, to a most worthy cause.

The Center certainly is a step in the right direction and will be an asset to the community.

It will fill some of the void—but certainly is not a total answer to the community's need for recreation.

The committee on raising funds has had its problems, and, despite an all-out effort, is still a long way from procuring the funds it hoped to obtain.

Raising money on a strictly voluntary basis is difficult in many ways. Income is uncertain, and the problem rises year after year. Each time it becomes more difficult because people feel they gave before.

Those who do give will always be in the minority. Plans for the future are indefinite because you never know how much you will get and therefore have a problem in planning a program.

Credit must be given those who worked so hard on the Lafayette Community Center, and their progress to date has been wonderful—and rest assured, the progress will be a steady one, thanks to the fine people behind the project.

All of which reminds me that I must go down and make my contribution today. How about you?

Let's all hope that the Community Center plans are fulfilled in the not too distant future.

Governor Signs Sales Tax Bill

All California counties have been authorized to collect a one per cent sales tax starting next April 1, under a bill signed into law by Governor Goodwin Knight, recently.

Causing great controversy during the recent session of the legislature, the sales tax is already in effect in most cities.

THE BILL WILL impose a 4 per cent sales tax on purchases made in unincorporated areas, where only the 3 per cent state tax is now paid. The new law will have no effect on cities where the local and state levies are already in effect.

Until this new bill, city residents have been making major purchases in unincorporated areas to escape city taxation; now, however, cities expect to profit through higher receipts.

THE TAX WILL provide a new source of revenue for the counties.

R. Howard Heads County Housing

Ronald Howard of Pleasant Hill was named recently to head the Contra Costa County Housing Authority. This is the third change in the past year of the executive director post.

Howard succeeds Warren Harrold who has been named by the commissioners as housing advisor and real property disposition office.

Harrold had been first executive director when the authority was created in 1941 but gave up the post some years ago to Sigmund Mahler, then a Concord banker.

When Harrold returned to office last year Mahler was appointed administrative assistant, and Howard, assistant to Harrold.

Our Main Problem—Planning For Area's Orderly Growth

Most of us moved "to the country"—specifically, to this lovely suburban area—in order to get away from the city.

Naturally, many other people have the same idea. And the ever-increasing population results in ever-increasing problems.

How can we solve these problems, many of which bear more than a casual resemblance to city problems we had fondly imagined behind us?

Now that we are here, we can't say to others who desire to make the same move we made, "Stop—you can't come here!"

That, obviously, is not coping with the problem. We can't stop others from moving here, just as we did, to enjoy our beautiful area. That lovely orchard or hillside will not remain "unspoiled" by new homes.

What's more, there's no reason why new homes should "spoil" this area—if proper steps are taken.

And that brings us to the real problem—how to plan for orderly growth.

Growth is natural and healthy. But we must plan for it, so that it adds to the beauty and value of our area.

Planning for orderly growth means zoning; it means master planning. That's one of the main reasons for county government (and for city governments in incorporated areas).

It's also the reason for a county planning department with a very large budget, it's the reason for a County Planning Commission and it's one of the main reasons for a Board of Supervisors.

And we don't have to look far for other factors based on this fundamental concept of adequate planning for orderly growth of our area and its communities.

Among these factors is participation of improvement organizations, citizen planning groups, real estate dealers and the construction industry in county affairs.

By their participation, these and other groups perform one of the main functions of American democracy—public sharing in the shaping and conduct of government.

Papers by Local Scientists Read At Rome Confab

"Derivatives of Acrolein" is the title of the paper presented at the recent Fourth World Petroleum Congress in Rome, Italy, co-authored by five Shell Development Company scientists.

They are S. A. Ballard of 2 Heather Lane, Orinda, head — petroleum refining department; G. W. Hearne of 761 Los Palos Drive, Lafayette, supervisor — organic chemistry, and H. D. Finch, B. P. Geyer and C. W. Smith, all of Berkeley. A sixth co-author, R. R. Whetstone, is now employed in Denver.

The paper, presented by Hearne, describes new chemicals available as a result of Shell's new acrolein process in which all these men had an active part.

Another paper which was presented at the congress was co-authored by Thurston Skei of 3540 O'Connor Drive, Lafayette. Skei is in the fuels and engine lubricants department.

This paper, titled "Occlusion of Hydrogen in Steel," deals with the hydrogen penetration of steel which results in blistering and fissuring.

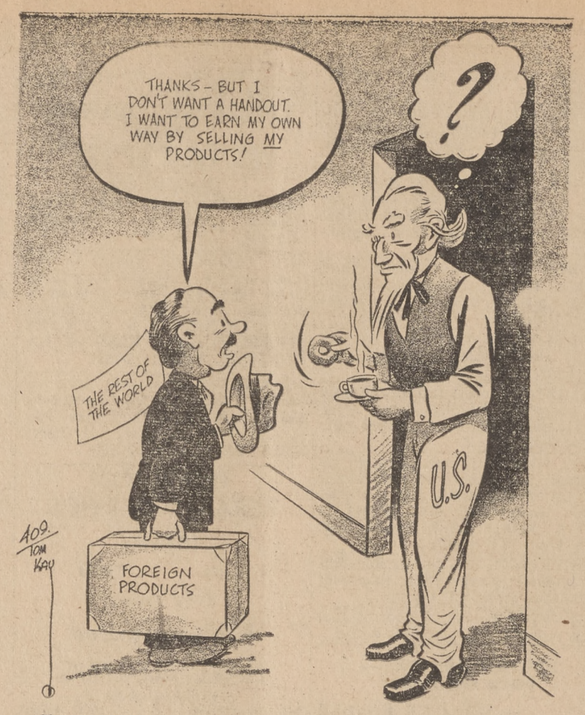

Music Teachers Receive Degrees

At the recent Music Teachers Convention held at Mills College the following music teachers from this area received degrees through the California Plan, a voluntary teacher training and study program:

Margaret Winters of Orinda, new Contra Costa president; June Wilde of Concord, Inerz Barr of Walnut Creek, Nellie Alexander, past county branch president, and Lenore Lunrholm of Lafayette, all of whom received Colleague degres.

Gala Contra Costa County Fair Readied As Chambers Enter 'Parade of Cities'

Ten chambers of commerce have entered the competition in the "Parade of Cities," sponsored by the Contra Costa County Development Association, during the Contra Costa County Fair at Antioch, August 4 to 7.

Cash prizes of $100, $75 and $50 are offered by the Development Association for those chambers which best tell the story, each of its own community and its activities.

Artists, designers, architects and craftsmen have been enlisted by the various groups.

Competing communities are Bethel Island, Brentwood, Concord, El Cerrito, Lafayette, Martinez, Pittsburg, Richmond, Walnut Creek and Anitoch.

TITO GUIZAR, famous Mexican musician, movie and television actor, will bring to the County Fair a record of achievement in the entertainment field — but through the years he has also gained top rank in many other activities.

However, music has come first with him ever since he left his Mexico City home at an early age to enter medical school in New York City. His fine tenor voice and love of music changed his course.

He studied under the famous Italian baritone, Pasquale Amoto, sang in light opera and became a top ranking singing star in Hollywood. He is also a composer, especially for his beloved Santos Hernandez quitar, a name which is to all guitars what Stradivarius is to violins.

HE USES NO PICK, claiming that "only the fingers can bring out the full tonal quality." He originated the guitar slapping technique which at times makes one guitar sound like a whole orchestra.

His diversions in earlier years developed him as a top flight tennis player, boxer, golfer and bull fighter.

Tito Guizar will star in the stage show that will be presented twice daily at the fair. He will be accompanied by musical, novelty and Spanish dance numbers in the "Fiesta" theme.

HERDSMEN will be enticed to the County Fair by liberal premium awards for exhibits of "top" specimens of many fine herds.

The livestock division provides for variety in cattle, both singly and in groups—beef, bulls and females.

Outstanding beef cattle men will exhibit Aberdeen Angus, Herefords and Shorthorns.

Any Modern Robin Hoods in Area?

Camping brings out the Boy Scout in a man, and the man in a Boy Scout.

Robin Hood was an all around good scout who camped for years in the umbrage of Sherwood Forest. Of course, this wasn't a case of enjoying fresh venison and a bed of leaves as much as one of hiding from the Sheriff of Nottingham.

Robin was being sought by the Un-Norman Activities Committee for Communistic leanings — robbing from the rich to give to the poor. He had definite Red tendencies; even one of his comrades was called Will Scarlet.

HIS STORY had a happy ending because he eventually reformed and married Olivia de Haviland.

This week our researchers were concerned with modern reaction to camping.

They asked some people this question: Have you and your family, or any members of your family, gone camping this summer, or do you plan to do so?

"WE HAVE NO particular interest in camping at present," replied Mrs. James T. Lapsley, 935 Carol Lane, Lafayette. "Our children are too small, but we will undoubtedly do some camping at a future date."

Doug Krotz, who will be a senior at Acalanes in September, said he had had just reutrned from a one-week camp near Cazadero, sponsored by the Orinda Community Church. He enjoyed it, but said it could not be termed "roughing it." Doug lives at 44 Monte Vista Road, Orinda.

"TWO OF OUR boys, Stanley and Ed, have been in scout and explorer camps," sair Mrs. A. J. Rains, 3206 Old Tunnel Road, Lafayette, "but our family as a whole has never gone camping."

Mrs. Victor Rigoldfi, 7 Southwood Drive, Orinda, said, "We do our camping right in the backyard. We have a wonderful garden and love to putter around in it."

"MY WIFE'S PEOPLE have a small cabin on Echo Lake," said Daniel Murphy of 30 Garden Court, Walnut Creek. "The facilities are such that it makes for semi- camping. We hope to spend a few days there in August," he added.

"We're not campers," said Verne Rutledge of 1537 Arbutus Drive, Walnut Creek. "Our pleasure trips are only for the day."

KENNETH HEAD of 167 Vivian Drive, Pleasant Hill, said, "We're looking forward to it but the children are too young as yet to camp out. We are new to California, therefore anxious to discover the many wonderful camping areas here."

"I'm strictly a city dweller," exclaimed Mrs. Gerald Kulp of 1990 Elinora Drive, Pleasant Hill. "The family is just fresh out of five years of apartment dwelling and therefore we enjoy working in the garden."

Diablo Bluebirds Hold 3-Day Camp

Diablo Valley Council Campfire Girls held their first day camp for Bluebirds of Walnut Creek and Lafayette on June 30 and July 1 and 20.

Ninety-six Bluebirds, ages 7 to 10, swam, ate out, hiked and studied nature at Castlerock Park from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. each day.

Miss Jean Pennell, teacher at Montecito School, acted as director. Assisting as counselors were the Mesdames Mary Gilbert, Marge Dotson, Ramon Jackson, Vivian Jackson, Doris Strahle, Virginia Numni, Genevieve Hogan, Madge Essayan, Jane Pratt, Carol Gates, Doris Mooney, Ouida Bradford, Bobbie Collen, Janis Numni, Barrett, Bartolozzi, and Shideler.

Also assisting in special activities were Mrs. Jean Howe, music, and Mrs. Joe Castro, nature.

Entertaining the girls after their "cook-out" on June 30 was C. Earl Sears, guitarist and folk-singer.

The council is a community chest organization.

Under The Sun

By Herman Silverman

(The following article, on "Family Civil Defense," is by Nan Wallace, coordinator of the Clayton Area Civil Defense Sub-Council.)

Civil defense — from a family viewpoint

When Herman phoned and asked if I would write a column on civil defense I was delighted with the opportunity to share my thoughts on the subject, as a parent with other parents who read "Under the Sun." I say "parents" because civil defense from a family and parents' viewpoint is the phase most interesting to me, and a phase least understood, I believe, by many.

The family unit has always been important in America, and it is important as we face the uncertainties of the atomic age — and families must face the problems of this atomic age if they are to survive.

Any problem — all problems — must be faced squarely before they can be solved. We teach this basic principle to our children in regard to other problems. Civil defense preparedness must be included. Our children can and do accept this kind of training. They accept it exactly on the level on which it is presented. Don't forget they have grown up in a world at war. It is we, the parents, who find it difficult.

As we have followed the recent United Nations meetings I believe we have all been aware of the sincere efforts being made by many for peace. I believe we have also been aware of the threat. This threat is something we have to learn to live with and to cope with.

When the dispersal plans for Contra Costa County are completed many families will actually face these problems for the first time. (All of Contra Costa County was theoretically "dispersed" on the June 15 "Operation Alert" due to the lethal radiation hazard from a 1 megaton bomb in San Francisco. All state planning is now on the basis of a 20 megaton bomb, so knowledge, training and planning — family planning — is mighty important in Contra Costa County.)

We're no longer safely away from target

You must remember that we in Contra Costa County no longer find ourselves living safely in the "country" away from the target Bay Area. Much of our area would receive these same blast heat and radiation effects from a 20 megaton bomb, regardless of wind direction, and the state is considering a 20-mile radius from ground zero as untenable. As more and more information is being released (Life, issue of June 27, for example, and Time, issue of June 20) we must recognize the serious condition we face in the whole county. Not a single building or place in Contra Costa County could be assumed safe under certain weather conditions, and our only hope would be either not to be here — disperse — or to be in an "adequate" shelter — one under three feet of packed earth.

What are the problems and what realistic, practical steps can we take as parents and families to give us some security as we live with the threat — a threat we will face for years to come? Our first real problem is that our families would be scattered during the day when a surprise attack would be most probable.

If dad works in the Bay Area he would be dispersed to the south and he wouldn't get back home to be of any help to mother and the children. Even if he works in the county he wouldn't be allowed to cross a dispersal line once the flow of traffic begins. A well-equipped survival kit containing food, water, first aid, blanket and change of clothing in the trunk of dad's car would better enable him to meet his own needs.

A meeting place is essential in family planning, a home of a relative or friend away from critical target or fallout area. Should it be in some safe area in the northern part of this state, for example, you could actually plan to all meet there eventually. It might take days, or even, weeks, but you would all know that if the members of your family were alive they would eventually get there or contact each other there. Adequate school disaster records can show this address as well as the names and addresses of other relatives and friends. Then children can be helped to find parents and also allowed to grow up with loved ones instead of institutional care should both parents be killed or missing.

Are you asking the right question?

And what about the children? If they are in one school instead of two or three, it's still about the greatest problem you face as parents. Instead of "What are the schools doing to protect my child?" your question should be "What am I doing to help my school protect my child?"

Obviously the best possible warning system comes first. The "Bell and Light Air Raid Warning System," the same system used at military installations, can be had for only $125 installation charge and $5.25 per month. Federal government funds refund half these costs. Other parents are contributing to make this protection possible for their children. Are you?

Receiving the warning promptly will be of little help if the children and teachers can't tell the fire signal from the air raid signal. A siren is, therefore, equally important.

Other parents are buying portable radios for their schools to enable their principal to receive Conelrad emergency instructions — are you?

Other parents are doing the work necessary for a successful identification tag program. Our government says every man, woman and child in the United States should wear a tag. You can help.

Other parents are supplementing inadequate school first aid supplies by properly preparing dressings made from old sheets. (Directions available, county civil defense office.) Grandmas are wonderful help in this important work.

Other parents are facing the tragedy of 30 to 40 children in a classroom with glass walls, and no place for even shelter from flying glass. Some of these parents are raising money for Venetian blinds.

Other parents feel it is time our school boards and architects consider these problems as they build new schools. I firmly believe that in a matter of time all our schools will be required to have adequate underground shelters. We're just beginning to be aware of this need, and mass education takes time — sometimes too much time.

And here are some essential steps

Other parents recognize how absolutely essential frequent air raid drills are in order to train a child to act automatically at time of disaster. Can you urge your school to take this step, or are you going to react as parents did before monthly fire drills were required by state law and say, "You're frightening my child?"

Other parents are setting up stores of emergency food, water, blankets and sanitation supplies, supplies that could be moved with the children if they have to be moved as a group on a dispersal signal. Are you helping to do these jobs in your school?

All of these needs must be met at home, too. Supplies in order and ready to put into the car, and the car must be kept at least half full of gas at all times. We all need to be seriously considering and planning for that underground shelter at home, too, in case attack should come without warning.

The eight weeks of federal training I've had — the three years as volunteer civil defense coordinator in our area — the study, the teaching — all help me to see the problems and make the necessary plans at home. This background makes it seem normal, natural and important to discuss our family plans often with Lawrence and our 11-year-old Jerry.

You won't find it easy at first. As "Jer" and I discussed this article today, I asked him what he thought was most important in civil defense planning. "Why, keeping the family together, mom, of course! And the most important thing at school is planning to get the kids home!" — the next job we face, I'm sure.

YOU must help find the correct answer

But those of you who live in Orinda and Lafayette, for example, won't want your children at Acalanes or the Junior College to come back home — west — even if they could go against a dispersal line (which they can't). What are you going to do? How are you going to plan? They are your children and you are going to have to help your school administrators find the right answer — and the right answer will vary in each school location in the county.

Civil defense has finally been accepted as an important part of our county government. It is now a separate department with a full-time director, William W. Ward Jr., and a staff whose responsibilities include helping you to help yourselves.

Mr. Ward, competent and trained as he is, can't do this job alone. He needs the full cooperation of the county, but most of all he needs your cooperation — you, the parents and the families who are willing to give yourselves and your time to learn what to do.

This is the civil defense I know and believe in. Not some one else belonging to an organization learning how to take care of you during an emergency, but you as parents and children — a family — preparing and learning how to meet your own needs.

This is the real aim of civil defense. You — your family and your future.

to every woman who is tired of cooking every day

You can cut your kitchen time at least in half—by following this simple concept of cooking in quantity...and freezing for future meals

Here's all you do. Whenever you're preparing food—whether it's a complete dinner, a cake, applesauce, just about anything—simply double or triple your recipe as you wish.

And in one operation you've prepared several extra servings, to store for future meals, in your freezer. They will stay fresh and flavorful for months in a freezer—ready to heat and take to the table, any time!

You save shopping time, too—because you can buy in quantity for a freezer. Economize, by taking advantage of sales and specials . . . stocking up on seasonal foods when prices are lowest. And perishables like strawberries, corn, peaches, green beans are always on hand—to bring more variety to all your means, all year round.

You can find the size and style freezer to fit your family's needs. And easy payment plans can be tailored to fit any budget. Freezers are economical to run, too, thanks to P. G. and E.'s low rates. Why not make your investment in new hours of freedom from kitchen work, right now. See your appliance dealer about new freezer today—plan to freeze yourself some spare time (lots of it!) starting tomorrow.
